CHIEF JUSTICE AND MRS. PAXON.

Chief Justice Paxon of Pennsylvania who, though in this city last week on who, though in this city last week on "private business," called on the President in response to a symmom from him, is one of the most learned and crained men sitting upon any of the State benches, Supreme or other. He is a rich man and politically ambitious, He is a Republican, and very powerful in the liner councils of his party in Pennsylvania. He was talked of as a compromise candidate for Governer when Delamater was nominated. Had Judge Paxon been manimated he would have been elected, for there is no stain upon his character, public or private. Undoubledly he has been suggested as a proper person for the Squeene no stain upon his character, public or private. Undoubtedly he has been suggested as a proper person for the Supreme Court vacancy, and that suggestion come from ex-Senator Sewell of New Jersey, who is on terms of personal, social and political intimacy with the President, and not from either of the Pennsylvania Senators. Not that they are not favorable to Chief Justice Paxon. Far from it. But that their relations with the President are no longer cordial or contidential. Those of Concron never were, and those of Quay, since the election of Patitison, are suspended. Hence General Sewell's coming forward in behalf of a Pennsylvania.

The political ambition of Chief Justice Paxson is shared by his wife, who adds to it of course the social ambition natural to a brilliant woman. Mrs. Paxson was a widow when she was married to Mr. Paxson, having formerly besa the wife of ex-Congressman Bridges of Pennsylvania. They, Mr. and Mrs. Bridges, livel in that part of Pennsylvania known as the Tenth Legion, now represented by Representative Murchler. Mrs. Bridges determined that Mr. Bridges should go to Congress, so he could bave "Hon." in front and "M.C." behind his name. She successed. Later ex-Congressman Bridges was gathered to his fathers and his widow become Mrs. Paxson, wife of Pennsylvania's Chief Justice. She is now amhitious that her second husband shall climb the ladder of fame yet higher. An illustration of her candidate for postmaster of her home town against the local machine. The fact is, Mrs. Paxson is another Mrs. Logan, whose ability so far has been diplayed in a small field. The only chance to at tain with any permanency a high official station here appears to be through the Supreme Court, as the Keystone State Senatorships are pre-empted. If appointed to the vacaincy, Judge Paxson would adorn the Bench, while Mrs. Paxson would prove a great acquisition to Washington society.

NATIONAL BANKS AS DEPOSITORIES

The House Wants to Know Which Are The House Wants to Know Which Are Sciected to Care for Public Pands.
The House to-day, on motion of Major McKinley, acting for the Ways and Meaus Committee, alopted a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for the names of the several banks in which public money is deposited, the places where such deposites, the reasons therefore, and the rate of interest, if any, which has been or is now paid into the Treasury by such depositionies in return for the use of the public funds. Also, for information as to the authority by which and the law under which such deposits were made.

RACING FOR A PLACE.

Representatives Baker and Farquhar Both After the Same Position. There is an interesting contest going on ctween Congressmen Baker and Farqu har. They are both from New York, both failed of re-election and both want to be failed of re-election and both want to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

The President has said that he will appoint no member of the present Honse to a Federal place until after the 4th of next March, and that then he will appoint none who have not been diligent in their attendance upon the sittings of the House. Messrs. Baker and Farquhar are now engaged in a rivalry as to diligence. Neither has missed a day during this session. The other day Mr. Baker thought he had one on Mr. Farquhar. The latter had a severe cold and was conlined to his bed. Late in the afternoon he pulled out, however, and went to the Capitol, thus greatly disappointing Mr. Baker. There has been no contest resembling the one now on since Congressmen Hovey and Matson of Indiana were candidates for the Indiana Governorship, and made a race to see which one could put through the largest number of pension bills.

Cuspidors and Tumblers. The report of the contingent expenses of the House shows some rather queer of the House shows some rather queer things. It makes known, in one instance, that the Committee on the Revision of the Laws has three tumblers and two cuspi-dors in its possession, while the River and Harbor Committee has only one tumbler and nineteen cuspidors. Why the per-sonal effects of the two committees should show such a discrepancy in cuspidors and tumblers is not put forth.

Wage Workers' Political Alliance. The Wage Workers' Political Alliance appear to have been stirred up by the Tan Carrie to renewed activity. Taking ad-Charac to renewed activity. Taking advantage of Sunday and two consecutive 'midnight holy hours' they prepared two memorials and one petition. This morning Mr. Hoar presented the brace of memorials as follows: One remonstrating against the passage of the Federal Elections bill, and the other praying for the passage of their own bill (presented by Mr. Hoar last week) to establish a department of elections.

This is rather rubbing it in on the venerable Bay State statesman, but he is getting used to hard knocks these days. The petition was presented by Mr. Cockrell, and asks that the street-car system of the District be conducted under the management of the District Commissioners, and that the rate of fare be fixed at 1 cent for each passenger.

Closing the Affairs of the Centennial. It will strike most people as singular that the financial affairs of the Centennial Exposition have never been officially set-tled and wound up, though fourteen years have fied. Mr. O'Neill has a bill before he House to bring about this most de irable consummation.

To-morrow the House Judiciary Committee will hear a delegation of Philadelphia gentlemen representing the old Board of Finance of the Centeunial Commission.

They will urge the official winding up of the affairs of the board by the appointment of Judge Butler to act as auditor. The delegation wired Mr. O'Nell they would be here.

Apportionment Bill in the House. Mr. Dunnell gave notice in the House to-day that he would call up his appor-tionment bill to-morrow. As there is no concerted opposition to it it is likely to go through without opposition.

Will Investigate. It is understood that the House Committee on Rules has decided to report favorably Mr. Dockery's resolution to investigate the charges that certain Senators and Representatives formed a pool to comer the silver market when the Silver bill was under consideration.

The Time Extended Five Months. The Committee on Ways and Means today decided to report a joint resolution extending the period within which goods in bond may be withdrawn under the old hariff from February 1 until July 1, 1891. It is awabstitute for the bill affered by Representative Flower.

Capitol Notes.

 2600, a bill to provide for opening alleys and constructing sewers in the District, which was reported on May 2 last by Mr. Faulkner, was this morning re-committed to the District Committee. James W. Hathaway was sworn in as postmaster of the House to-day on motion of Mr. Carter of Montana.

Shet to Frighten His Assailant. Abraham M. Proctor, a young man, was the dock at the Police Court to-day, harged with carrying concealed weapons. On Saturday night Officer Eaton heard the report of a revolver in Armory Park, and upon going there found Proctor in the persession of a revolver. He placed him under arrest and charged him with him under arrest and charged him with earrying concealed weapons.

Prector told the Judge that at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, while he was cross-ing the park, a big negro tried to rob him, and, in order to earre his assailant away, he admitted that he shot at him. Proctor explained that he moved that hight, and was only carrying the weapon from one house to another. The case was dis-missed.

Big Haul of Vagrants.
On Saturday night the officers of the Eighth Precinct raided J. P. Elmec's place, at the corner of Seventh and R and white men. Elmer's place has a very bad name, and is patronized by many of the most disreputable characters living in Hell's Bottom. Every Saturday night the colored people who have been paid off for the little work they do congregate at Elmer's and drink and gamble. When it came to calling the dock this morning there were thirty out of the fifty-three accepted left, the others having been normitted to go because they work. The others were all charged with varyancy and required to give bends or go to the workhouse. A good van load of them were sent down. and white men. Elmer's place has a very

THE RAUM INVESTIGATION. EDITOR DE YOUNG TALKS:

The House Committee Hears the Testi-mony of a Number of Persons. The special House Committee investigating the charges-against Commissioner of Pensions Raum continued its sessions to-day. Chairman Morrill being called home on business, Mr. Sawyer of New York acted as chairman.

Captain Lemon testified that he had been in the pension business here for twenty-five years. He denied that he had ever directly or Indirectly recommended the appointment of any person in his em-ploy to General Raum. The only person whom he had ever recommended for a place in the Pension Office was a Mr. Whelpley, whom he recommended to Commissioner Tanner, but he was never appointed. There were some persons, he said, now in the Pension Office who had been in his employ, but they were appointed upon passing the civil service examination, and he had nothing at all to do with their ap-he had nothing at all to do with their appointments.

Mr. Cooper asked Captain Lemon to furnish him with a list of the persons in his employ who had been clerks in the Peusion Office.

Commissioner Raem said that he thought there was a man pamed Ramey new in the Pension Office who was in the employ of Mr. Lemon when he was appointed to a position in the Pension Office, his name being drawn from the civil service list.

Mr. Cooper asked Captain Lemon to inform him what salary Mr. Ramey received while in his employ.

Mr. Lemon said that he would furnish the information, but he did not see what bearing it had upon the matter under investigation.

bearing it had upon the matter under investigation.

Mr. Sawyer asked Mr. Cooper what he expected to show by this information.

Mr. Cooper suggested he might show that Ramey was paid $1,000 by Captain Lemon and took a position in the Pension Office at $1,000, doing so to facilitate the business of Captain Lemon.

Mr. Lemon said that this statement went into the record and demanded to know if Mr. Cooper stated it as a fact.

Mr. Cooper replied that Mr. Lemon could not buildoze him.

Mr. Sawyer here interrupted and restored order.

Mr. Lemon said that he would tell the amount of Mr. Ramey's salary, but he would not give this information concerning any other persons in his employ.

Mr. Lemon, in answer to further questions, said that he bad never indorsed any paper for Mr. Raum with the exception of the note for $12,000.

Mr. Cooper asked him if there was not a note of Mr. Raum's in the Citizen's Bank for $13,000.

Mr. Lemon replied that he was one of

Mr. Cooper asked him if there was not a note of Mr. Raum's in the Citizen's Bank for $13,000.

Mr. Lemon replied that he was one of the directors of this bank, and he did not think it was proper for him to state the private affairs of the customers of the bank. He refused to answer the question unless the chairman so ordered.

Mr. Cooper then asked if he would give the date on which the note referred to was negotiated.

Mr. Lemon replied that it was none of his business, and again refused to go into the affairs of the bank and its customers. In reply to a question by Mr. Cooper.

his business, and again refused to go into the affairs of the bank and its customers. In reply to a question by Mr. Cooper Mr. Lemen said that he had never used this influence with the directors of the bank to have Mr. Raum's note discounted, but said that they were indorsed by several of the best men in the country.

Mr. Cooper said that he did not propose to take the bare statement of Mr. Lemon, and he proposed to go deeper into the matter if he could. He asked for the amount, date and indorsers of the note in question.

Mr. Lemon said that he would get the information desired subject to the approval of the committee.

Mr. Taber, chief of one of the divisions of Mr. Lemon's office, testified that he had never recommended the appointment or promotion of any person in Mr. Lemon's employ to the Pension Office. Most of these employed by Mr. Lemon, and now in the Pension Office, he said, had obtained their positions under the civil' service, and others had been reinstated under what is known as Rule 10, of the Civil Service law.

Edward Renaud, a clerk whom Mr.

vice, and others had been reinstated under what is known as Rule 10, of the Civil Service law.

Edward Renaud, a clerk whom Mr. Raum had disraissed and who, it is charged, wrote or furnished the information for certain articles in the New York Tribuos about the administration of affairs in the Pension Office, was next called.

He said that he had been discharged by Mr. Raum and afterwards Mr. Raum had made statements about him detrimental to his character, and upon legal advice he had decided to bring suit against Mr. Raum for dimages. He said that in case he refused to answer questions it would be because it would betray his case.

The chairman then read the articles referred to, and he was asked if he had written them or furnished the information upon which they were based.

He declined to answer the questions.

Mr. Coaker law elerk of the Land Office, testified that he had known Mr. Raum for about thirty years, having lived near him in Hilhois.

Mr. Cooper asked him if his son had not reported to him a second contracted to him a contracted to him a contracted to him a contracted to him a second contracted to him a co

Mr. Cooper asked him if his son had not reported to him a -conversation he had had with a Mr. McGilley, an employe of the Pension Office, and asked him to repeat it to the committee.

He said that his son had a conversation with McGilley and from what his son told him he understood that McGilley had obtained stock in the Universal Refrigerator Company from some source. Something was also said about McGilley being promoted.

was also said about McGilley being promoted.

After this conversation be had met Mr. Raum on the street and repeated the conversation to him. Mr. Raum replied that it was a mistake and that no employe of the Pension Office owned any stack in the company. He said further that McGilley must make an affidavit to the contrary or leave the Pension Office. He testified that he had also had a conversation with Green B. Raum, jr., about the matter.

Mr. Raum then questioned the witness briefly as to his conversation with him.

Mr. Raum denied that he had ever made any threat about discharging McGilley, and said that Mr. Coaker was mistaken.

Engineer Commissioner Robert, feeling pretty well, us be said, was in his office at pretty well, as he said, was in his office at the District Building to-day for the first time since his serious illness of several months duration. He at once began busi-ness with the officials in the Engineer's department, and booked over a number of preposals of parties for supplying the Dis-trict with granite curbstones. He said to Tars Churc that he would take up the business of the office as it came along, but that he preferred not to say anything about the Guy case.

The stock market this morning would and strong in the early dealing quiet and strong in the early deaning-which however, disappeared later and a reaction followed. The early gains ranged from a to 12 per cent, but this was subse-quently whelly lest, and at 11 o'clock prices were down to about the opening

After II o'clock the market was ex-tremely dull and dragging. Prices de-clined fractionally by noon, and at this writing are generally from 1@2 per cent, below those of Saturday.

The silver certificates were a feature of the morning dealings. They were active on account of the talk with regard to silver legislation and other schemes to utilize silver. Their price advanced from 106 at the opening to 1001 and then re-neted to 1084. Sales up to noon of stocks amounted to 74,400 shares. Washington Stock Exchange.
